Small enterprises, big energy savings

Micro and small sized enterprises want to cut energy bills and go green, but the path towards their personal energy transition isn't always clear.

In Kilkenny, the Pembroke Hotel took the leap and is one of the 90 SMEs that got support from ECOBoost. With heat pumps, smart controls and efficient kitchens, it now saves €36,090 a year and avoids 107 tonnes of CO<sub>2</sub>. Its journey shows other small hotels and restaurants across North-West Europe that clean, resilient hospitality isn't just possible – it's good business.
